

THE ALAMO IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION WANTS TO HEAR FROM YOU!

How do you feel about the Alamo Improvement Association (AIA)? Do you understand its purpose?

By taking 5 minutes to answer the following survey, you will not only help AIA to become more useful in Alamo, you will also be entered to win a free breakfast or lunch for 2 at Cherubini's Coffee House in Alamo Square!

AIA was founded in 1955 to preserve and foster the established character and quality of Alamo as a semi-rural, low-density, residential area.

In 55 years of working with Alamo residents and Contra Costa County, Alamo's local government, AIA has provided Alamo residents a voice and a helping hand in the process that shapes our community and our neighborhoods. AIA has maintained expertise in planning, zoning and transportation, and gained an understanding of local issues and how Alamo residents view their community.

Please help us help Alamo by filling out the survey below!

1. What is your impression of the AIA?

2. Are there areas in the AIA that could be improved? What are they and how would you improve them?

3. Do you ever check the AIA website?

YES NO

If yes, how often? If no, what is the best way to communicate with you about important, local issues?

4. What services could AIA provide that it is not now providing?

(Examples: Sponsoring a town bulletin board and including on it meetings of government agencies that affect Alamo residents, gathering folks for trash or creek cleanups, working with other groups to fundraise for local causes, information sessions about how the County planning process functions, etc.)

5. Have you time and interest to become more involved in your community?

YES NO

If yes, in what type of capacity? (Examples: run for AIA Board of Directors, serve on an AIA committee, help organize fundraisers, assist in beautification of the town, etc.)
